

Wolf provides free services for children

Greetings from Caroline Wolf, Coordinator of the Parent Infant Program.

The Parent Infant Program continues to visit each village on the Slope as often as possible. If your child, who is younger than three years old, has not been seen by Caroline stop by and visit the clinic to find out when she'll be back.

Caroline can answer questions about your infant's growth and development and maybe give you some ideas. She can also test your infant to make sure everything is going okay.

There is never a charge

Now for some ideas:

Your infant is growing and developing so fast. Take time to sing and tell him/her stories about things around you, about other family members and about him/herself.

Listening can be a fun activity to do with your young child. With so many ear infections up here we need to help children use every bit of their hearing. Here are some ideas:

• Close your eyes and listen

- What sounds do you hear? (try this indoors and outdoors)
 - Snowmachines
 - ☹️ 😊 Voices
 - water boiling in a Kettle
 - a clock ticking
- Which noises are very loud? BOO CRASH!
BANG
- Which are soft? shhh
Shhh

Have fun with your child . . . while it is still a child.
