

TV Show debuts

Iñupiat television producer Jeanie Greene's new television program, is "Heartbeat Alaska."

"Heartbeat Alaska" will be anchored and produced by Natives.

It features Gary Fife who produces "National Native News" for Alaska Public Radio.

The RATNET Council voted to air "Heartbeat Alaska" every other Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

Greene independently produces this program at the King Crabb Production facilities with her company, One Sky. She will continue hosting "Northern Lives," on RATNET.