

Poem—

DICK and JANE

Long, long time ago, I use to read DICK AND JANE.

Now I keep wonder'in 'bout them kids.

I am wonder'in if ye old now.
Guess my brothers'll keep on a'readin'em.

I went to school at home an' I luv 'em kids.

But that wuz before modern times.

I use to read, aloud, "See, see,
see.

See Sally. Oh! oh! oh! Funny, funny Dick."

Look ye, why don't my brothers
read somethin' new,

Cause times are a changin.

My brothers should be readin'
somethin' new,

Cause they are way behind.

—JOHN ANGAIK