Computer Training & Support

Offers a full range of computer training and support services:

- Computer problem solving
- Purchase advise
- Network design and installation to connect multiple computers
- Training (on & off site)
- Remote access for trouble-shooting and support
- Internet setup and training
- Custom programming/data base

What is Remote Access?

One of the most exciting features of our program! With remote access a quick telephone call will enable our "computer wiz" Matt Joy to access your computer, assess the situation and solve most problems - as if he were there.

- Hands-on training without the cost of travel
- System problems can be evaluated and remedied without delays
- Alaska Village Initiatives and your organization can work together on a project
