

Subscriptions rates to remain low

The Tundra Times subscription rates have been the same for 3 decades: the 70's, 80's and 90's. In the meantime, mailing has risen, along with production costs. We've have been informally researching subscribers and doing market studies on raising the $ 20 a year rate. The only rate raised was the international subscriptions. Some subscribers have requested they receive the publication first class and are willing to pay for this individual service. For the time being rates will not be raised.
