

Grogan appointed to state arts panel

Gov. Steve Cowper announced the appointment of Margaret Grogan of Petersburg recently to a three-year term on the Alaska State Council on the Arts.

At the same time, Cowper announced the reappointment of three current members, Beverly Patkotak Grinage of Barrow, Helen Anne "Nanne" Myers of Fairbanks and Renee Patten of Bethel.

Grogan, who has lived in Fairbanks and Petersburg, has been involved with education in Alaska for many years. She has taught in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Alaska since 1966 and is currently the auditorium manager and high school drama coach for the Petersburg Public Schools.
