

Minority nursing students eligible for scholarships

The Alaska Native Health Career Program is now seeking applications for the Minority Nursing Scholarship.

Preference will be given to full-time minority junior and senior nursing students. The scholarship will be awarded on the basis of need and is intended to be supplemental funding. A total of $6,000 in funds will be awarded this year, according to Katherine Johnson, program director.

The deadline for filing applications is Sept. 18, 1989.

Those who want applications may contact Johnson at the Alaska Native Health Career Program, Special Nursing Project, University of Alaska Anchorage, Special Student Services, 3890 University Lake Drive, Anchorage 99508.