

Makah Indians To Hold 'Council Fire'

Members of the Baha'i Faith on the Makah Reservation will hold their "Fourth Annual Council Fire" August 13-14 at Neah Bay, Washington on the Washington Peninsula.

Among the guest speakers will be Mrs. Ina Mae Brown, Sioux, great-great granddaughter of Chief Sitting Bull, Rapid City, North Dakota; Mr. Vinson Brown, co-author of "Warriors of the Rainbow" from Healdsburg, California; Mr. Chester Kahn, Navajo artist from Arizona and Mr. Eugene King, Tlingit Baha'i of Seattle, Washington.

All Indian guests at the two-day camp-out are requested to bring songs, drums, dances and stories from their people. Those attending will be the honored guests at a salmon bake prepared by the Makah women.
