

I was born in the village. I grew up in the village with Native food and the Native way of life. Fishing, hunting, trapping...outdoor life. Being out in the country, on clean land with no noise, you feel close to God. You have enough time to think and figure things out.

There is lots of work to get done to survive. Get wood, pile up wood in front of the house...fishing in the summer to get food for the dog team.

I like our Native potlatches on holidays and all the little birthday parties. We get together and stay together, visiting one another while eating. No one is alone or should feel like that. There is always someone over there to support you. The closeness together is the best feeling.

INVEST IN A LITTLE SPARE ROOM

If you need more than a room or two, look into two or more homes under the same roof.

A HUD Homes duplex, triplex or fourplex may be the answer for keeping the family close. If the folks are retired, they can live independently and still be right next door. Kids just married or going to college? What a better way to help them without having them actually "live at home."

You can even turn the extra space into extra income.

Put the right roof over your head. Your real estate agent will show you a HUD Homes property that fits your family, and a low down payment program to fit your budget.
