

OCE Adult Education Institute

Oregon College of Education Monmouth, Oregon— Persons working with Indians on the Adult Basic Education level were attending a month-long institute at Oregon College of Education July 20-August 14.

This institute and one held earlier this summer have drawn a total of 86 participants from all across the United States. The institute is designed to be a critical appraisal of the role of Basic Adult Education among the American Indians.

Information and practical experience on the role of literacy education were given, stressing the method and techniques particularly applicable to the Indian community.

Leading the institute were Dr. Ronald L. Chatham and Dr. Helen M. Redbird, both members of the OCE social science depart-
