From Delta Midnight Sun

(Editor's Note: The following article does not say when the game was played but the issue was dated January 12, 1966.)

The Delta Junction Town Basketball team almost scored an upset over a team from Fairbanks that was at first called the All-Stars, then later was explained as "the guys we could get from the various teams to come to Delta to play."

The Delta Junction School gym was the scene of the action where the score wound up to be 73 to 75 Fairbanks.

The scoreboard at the end of the game read 69 Delta to 75-Fairbanks but when the scoring sheets were tallied it was found Delta had scored 73 points.
