

Late Sheldon Segevan Lauded for His Work in State Welfare Dept.

Lester R. Frank, Barrow District Representative for the State Division of Welfare has acknowledged the services of the late Sheldon Segevan of Wainwright for the welfare division.

"I think we ought to give Segevan our acknowledgement of services well done. He served the people of Wainwright and assisted the State of Alaska," Frank stated.

Segevan took applications for state welfare, made investigations, made out reports to the State.

"He was our contact between the State and Wainwright," said Frank.

Segevan, who died on July 2, is to be given a posthumous award by the Environmental Sciences Services Administration Weather Bureau's John Campanius Holm Award for 1968.

Segevan has served as a weather observer at Wainwright between Barrow and Point Hope when he died.

Sen. Ernest Gruening is to present the award to Segevan's widow on August 23.
