

Alcohol panel plans AFN fair

A Service Fair, hosted by the Alaska Native Blue Ribbon Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, will be open during the Alaska Federation of Natives Convention in the Egan Center.

The fair will run 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Lower Level of the Egan Convention Center.

It will feature information on service providers and treatment programs throughout Alaska.

The commission was created by the 1988 convention and will be officially launched Thursday afternoon.
