

LA Times internships

The Los Angeles Times offers internships in business, news and sports reporting, photo journalism, copy editing and infographics. Applicants must be working toward a college degree and may have graduated six months before the internship starts.

These are paid internships, with college credit available. The deadline for summer internships is Dec. 1. For more information, call Cindy Chow-Snavely, 1-800-283-NEWS, ext. 74487.