

NORA GUINN, first Native judge in Alaska, and one of the first female judges, now retired, will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree from the University of Alaska, Anchorage at commencement ceremonies in Anchorage on May 14. For this story, and others on Native youth in and out of college, please turn to page 6.