

Kuskokwim Association starts 4-H program

"4-H Assistance is made available to Mid-Kuskokwim Villages"

The Kuskokwim Native Association in Aniak has employed a 4-H Coordinator who will serve the 11 villages within the KNA region.

Betty Deacon, from Upper Kalskag was hired to be the 4-H Coordinator. As of March 23, she's traveled to two villages, informing eligible 4-H candidates, these being young people ranging from the ages 9-19, and any other interested persons.

Betty has already made a trip up to Lime Village and Chuathbaluk to organize 4-H projects for the summer. The KNA 4-H program will last until the end of September unless further funding can be obtained.

The 4-H Coordinator's office is at the KC building in Aniak and the phone number you can call for further information on 4-H is 675-4384.
