

Political information of interest to rural Alaskans throughout Southeast Alaska, Prince William Sound, the Kenai Peninsula and rural Alaska.

The Women's Campaign Fund, a bi-partisan political committee based in Washington, D.C., has endorsed State Sen. Arliss Sturgulewski for governor of Alaska.

Stephanie Solien, the group's executive director, said it chose Sturgulewski for a variety of reasons.

"There were many things we liked about her including the fact she's had so much experience over such a long period of time," Solien said.
