

PULU PAYS STUDENTS TRIP

Mitch Demientieff, president of the Tanana Chiefs Conference told the Tundra Times Monday that all questions concerning the funding of a recent trip to Fairbanks by bilingual students from Allakaket have been resolved.

Demientieff noted that questions raised by State Operated Schools Native Language Programs director Tupou L. Pulu in a Dec. 11 letter to the Tundra Times were settled before the letter was made public.

"Ms. Pulu implied that the Tanana Chiefs incurred these charges and subsequently refused to pay the bills. The fact of the matter is that the charges were incurred by the SOS Native Language Programs and will be paid," Demientieff said.
