

Prince William Sound College gets accreditation

Prince William Sound Community College received full accreditation from the Commission on Colleges of the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges during the association's 73rd annual meeting in Portland earlier this month, according to PWSCC spokesmen.

This action followed an institutional self-study and an evaluation team visit in October to the main campus in Valdez, as well as to the extension centers in Cordova and the Copper Basin.

PWSCC is Alaska's only remaining community college since the University of Alaska restructured in 1987.
