The University of Alaska Fairbanks, College of Rural Alaska, is seeking applications for a Tenure-track teaching position in psychology at the Assistant Professor level, to begin Fall Semester 1990. The successful candidate will bring a blend of social, clinical, and community psychology background to teaching and research in a cross-cultural context. Typical teaching load would be three undergraduate and two graduate courses depending on program needs. The college emphasizes a cross-cultural orientation in both course offerings and research interests. Faculty are expected to establish a strong research agenda. As well as teaching on campus, the position offers opportunity to work in off-campus programs involving distance delivery.

QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. in clinical/counseling and/or social/community psychology required. Preferred qualifications include demonstrated ability to teach social, clinical or community psychology, and to engage in applied research, as well as multicultural professional experience and research, particularly with culturally diverse and rural populations.

In addition to a graduate program in Community Psychology and an undergraduate psychology program, the Department of Behavioral Science and Human Services offers a graduate program in Guidance and Counseling and undergraduate programs in Sociology and Social work. The College and Department have extensive campus sites in rural Alaska, and a special commitment to Native Americans, rural, and multi-cultural communities.

The greater Fairbanks area is a modern community of over 80,000 people, with spectacular scenery, cultural events, and unlimited opportunities for outdoor activities all four seasons of the year.

Please send vita and three letters of reference to: NORMAN G. DINGES, PH.D., CHAIR, PSYCHOLOGY SEARCH COMMITTEE, DEPARTMENT OF BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES AND HUMAN SERVICES, UNIVERSITY OF ALASKA, FAIRBANKS, ALASKA 99775-1380. Applications must be postmarked by March 1, 1990.

STATE OF ALASKA NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING FT. YUKON AIRPORT IMPROVEMENTS

In compliance with Public Law 97-248, the Airport and Airway Improvement Act, a notice of formal public hearing for Ft. Yukon Airport is being offered at this time. A hearing will be held for the purpose of considering the economic, social and environmental effects of the development and its consistency with the goals and objectives of such urban planning as has been carried out by the community. The meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Museum at Ft. Yukon, Alaska on January 22, 1990.

The State of Alaska, Department of Transportation and Public Facilities is proposing to upgrade the airport at Ft. LYukon. The existing float pond (Hospital Lake) and parking area does not meet Federal Aviation Administration requirements for safety. The existing runway is creating dusty conditions and ruts. The apron needs to be expanded to allow for more lease lots and a future partial parallel taxiway will be necessary to access the apron. Land will need to be acquired to protect the airport and allows for expansion.

Two projects, one each in FY 90 and FY 93, are being designed to address the deficiencies. The FY 90 project is Float Pond Improvements and will upgrade the float pond access road and construct a ramp aircraft parking area. An Environmental Assessment is being prepared and a draft will be available to the public by December 22, 1989 at State of Alaska, Department of Transportation and Public Facilities, Environmental Section, 2301 Peger Road, MS 2550-08.

The second project in FY 93 will construct additional apron and resurface the runway. Dust control measures will be examined for the runway.

The FY 90 Float Pond project will have wetland and floodplain involvement and will comply with Executive Order 11990, Protection of Wetlands and Executive Order 11988, Floodplain Management.
