

Times to Go Offset Nov. 19

The next issue of the Tundra Times will be on November 19 when this newspaper will come out for the first time in offset print.

The next two issues will probably be two weeks apart to give the staff enough time to get used to the new process. The staff hopes that the issues thereafter will be printed weekly.

The printing of the new Tundra Times will be done with the Daily News-Miner offset press.
