

A Tundra Times Fix'er Up

Some Tundra Times subscribers receiving their newspapers by mail may be experiencing some delays or irregularities in delivery at this time. The newspaper is in the process of switching to a new, automated circulation system, transferring mailing permits, and otherwise revamping its circulation procedures. The Tundra Times apologizes for any inconvenience during this transition. The new system will improve delivery for subscribers and simplify matters for the newspaper staff once this process is completed. Subscribers missing issues, or experiencing difficulty in receiving their newspapers are requested to advise us of any problems so that they may be corrected. Please contact the Circulation Manager, Tundra Times, 639 I Street, Anchorage, Alaska 99501 if any difficulties are presented. We expect a much more efficient and smooth circulation service very soon.

Thank you
Tundra Times Staff
