

When something spills or cooks over in your oven, sprinkle it with salt and leave it overnight. Next day it should come off easily with a pancake turner.