

Columbia University Teachers College Offers Scholarships

Columbia University Teachers College in New York City is offering a number of full tuition scholarships to Indian students for this coming fall and thereafter. The minimum requirement for application is the completion of 4 years college.

While most of the scholarships do not cover living expenses, the college guarantees part-time job placement so that students can fully meet all outside expenses. Interested students should contact: Jeffrey Newman, Association of American Indian Affairs, Inc., 222 Park Avenue South, New York, New York 10016, Phone number: (Area Code 212) MU9-2020.

Collect calls will be accepted.
