BARTLETT NAMED TO SENATE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON— Senator E. L. (Bob) Bartlett announced that he has been named to the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on State, Justice, Commerce, the Judiciary and Related Agencies.

Senator Bartlett gave up a seat on the Treasury and Post Office and Executive Office Subcommittee for his new post.

Appropriations subcommittees conduct hearings and give initial approval to budgets for departments under their jurisdiction.

Senator Bartlett said, "This move will enable me to take a more active part in appropriations for the Department of Commerce, which includes the Economic Development Administration, the Federal Maritime Administration and the Environmental Science Services Administration."

"All of those agencies have programs important to Alaska and the nation, and I am particularly pleased to be able to work on the oceanographic programs being carried out by the department," Bartlett said. He also noted that the State Department's budget included appropriations for the various international fisheries conventions.

"I intend to do what I can to see that appropriations are secured to ensure that the United States participates as fully as possible in programs established by these conventions," he continued.

On the Appropriations Committee, Bartlett is also chairman of the Legislative Subcommittee and a member of the Interior, the Transportation, the Deficiencies and Supplemental, and the Labor, Health Education and Welfare, Related Agencies subcommittees.
