

Alaska will do better with matured, experienced leadership in Washington

Elmer Rasmuson

United States Senator

When all the noise of campaigning dies away . . . the last balloon floats upward . . . the final impassioned speech echos down the hall . . . the television falls silent.

The action now shifts to you.

The question is now fully asked of you — who will serve us best?

Who can I trust with heavy and serious responsibility? • Who is best equipped by maturity, sound judgement and experience to speak for me and all Alaska as we move to take our rightful place with our sister states? • Who has the know-how, the friends in key posts, the elected experience to get things accomplished for Alaska? • Who can calmly guide us as we move through these most serious and agonizing times? • Who best represents change?

Think hard Alaskans.

Vote as if your whole world depended on it.
