'I Suppose So'—

Will Rogers, Jr. Visits Barrow

By GUY OKAKOK
Barrow Correspondent

BARROW, (Special)—Village people of Barrow was sure glad to see Will Rogers, Jr. come back to Barrow.

First, after his arrival, Junior said that he would like to go down to the Monument, monument where his father, Will Rogers and Wiley ended their lives in 1935.

After this, he said, he will be there, if needed. But one thing, he said, he will give a performance in Gym where children could see him.

In his speech, Will Rogers said that he brought a book with him his adopted son gave him. Junior said he has a son, "like any of you young people. My son is full blood Navajo. He wanted to come up and see Barrow."

But some day, he said, he will bring him along with him, probably year from now.

But Junior himself said to the students that Eskimos here make him feel as if he was in his home with his family. He said he was happy to be with them and some day, he will bring his son with him.

Good luck.

CROWDING

Schools here seems to get smaller as children still increasing. We have three schools including Jr. High School. Children in Barrow wanted to come but no way of finding rooms for them, especially those children in hard hearings which they should educate like any of the students.

If only those childrens in hard hearings could find a place where they could learn to read and write. There are some here in Barrow. I do not know how many they are.

DEDICATION

Visitors from different places who came in yesterday to dedicate the new buildings of ARL, some said, "Where can we find trees and willows?"

One man there he sees long poles yet no trees, where they get them or come from. I told him these long poles were shipped up by North Star III.

"But how do you people get your woods before they open this natural gas your using now?"

I answered him we have to haul PITCH once every month month to keep our homes going. It's not an easy one, I said to him but got to have it before you ran out of fuel.

Also, I thought, or think that I would see dogs around where are they, I do find only is the vehicles all kinds running here and there, is that why they got rid of their dogs which do much useful to Eskimos.

"I suppose so," I said to him.
