When two airlines like Wien and Western team up, you travel to the Outside with more convenience and comfort than ever.

First, an enjoyable flight to Anchorage, on Wien. Then Western takes over, with the Champagne Fleet, featuring more nonstops than any other airline to Seattle/Tacoma—plus sumptuous new in-flight service inspired by the food and grog of the eighteenth century. You'll enjoy delicious entrees like Beef Chop with Mincemeat Pears; Rack of Lamb from the Spit basted with orange juice, cinnamon, curry; English Meadow Hen, and others. And of course, only Western offers complimentary

Champagne to every adult on every flight, along with more legspace in Coach than any 747 offers in Coach from Anchorage South.

Fly Western's Champagne Fleet to Seattle from Anchorage—it all starts with Wien from Fairbanks.
